FEATURES YOU THE STUDENT

All of our efforts have been directed toward making you, the student, the main character in this year's Marquette. To emphasize your individuality, we are featuring what we feel is the most modern senior section ever attempted by a high school yearbook, with senior candids reflecting your vibrant personalities. In addition, a continuous essay-type text illustrated with photos, develops smoothly the story of the school year at Bishop Noll Institute, the story of you the student.

Peggy,

The 1966 MARQUETTE

Despite seemingly unorganized editorial board meetings and occasional ominous groans from the advisor, the 1966 Marquette staff succeeded in producing a yearbook. The long hours spent adding polish to the copy and pictures in the layouts sometimes seemed unbearable. It was painful, it was an experience, but we loved every minute of it. We think we've really left a story with Bishop Noll—we hope it's your story!

66 Here They Come . . .

Nearly as varied as the students themselves is the manner in which they come to school. Depending on the student, in his wallet can be seen some passport for conveyance, be it South Shore ticket, driver's license, parking lot permit, private bus pass or the champ of them all—the green and white Shoreline bus card. Only the lucky fifty per cent who employ the last of the above-mentioned vehicles know the joys of pushing, shoving, squeezing, and of course, full buses and slammed doors.

New on the scene this year are motorbikes, parked sandwich style between row on row of prided automobiles modeled from 1949 to 1966. Those students within walking distance of Noll choose to make their daily trek by skipping, shuffling or strolling through every type of shower, snow, sleet and slush. The most unique methods of transportation can be seen on Field Day, when hundreds of students choose to employ bicycles and skateboards as individual vehicles.

66 Who They Are . . .

Diversity is very evident among the students at Noll. Partly responsible for this is the wide range of family backgrounds with nearly every race and nationality represented. There are various shapes and sizes, from the lanky basketball player to the muscular wrestler and from the tall slim model to the just plain barrel of fun. Pale faces appear at Noll, but also freckled, dark, chubby, and thin ones can be seen. On every visage, an expression communicates the emotions of the student, usually caused by some Noll activity.

Frowns, yawns, tears of happiness and disappointment, exhilarated features, exhausted countenances, and worried glances are all part of the scene at Bishop Noll Institute, but the inquisitive look, the anxious look, the pensive look, and the typical Noll smile are more familiar. As varied as Nollites are in their backgrounds, heights, weights and facial expressions, they are unified in their loyalty and spirit. Diversity adds the sparkle and bubble to the typical school day at Bishop Noll Institute.

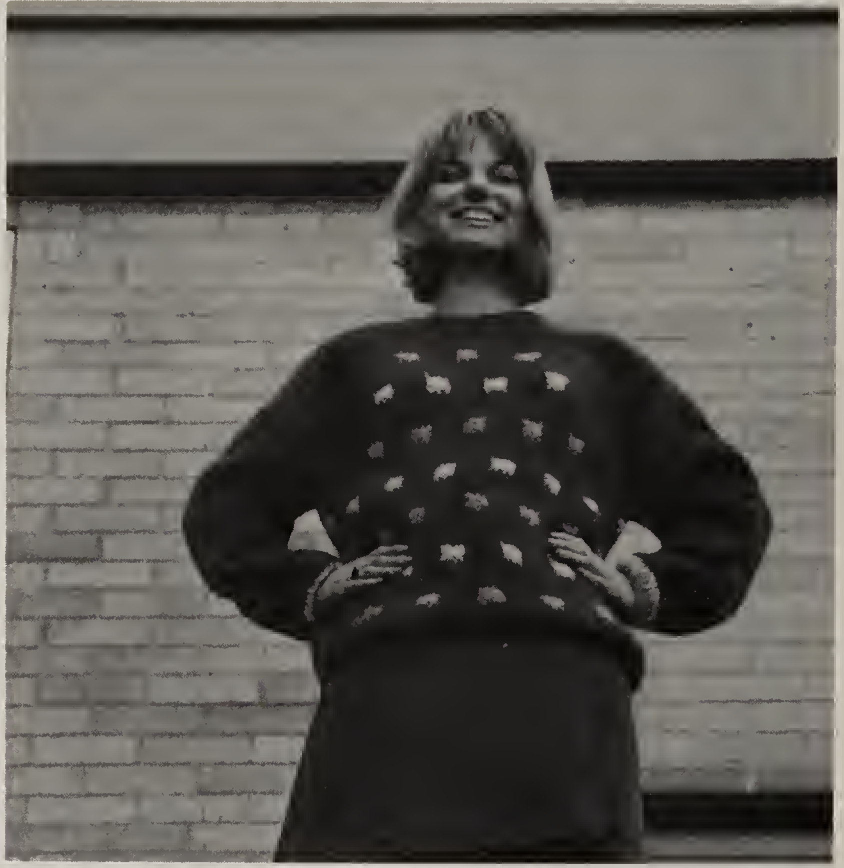
Displaying their creativity, Noll students came to school in hairstyles ranging from casual flips to Beatle cuts. For the boys, longer hair, symbol of the upcoming generation, replaced the familiar crewcut, while short, curly hair became stylish for the girls. However, long hair remained popular, with variations including ironed guiches to pigtails and flowing tresses to formal curls. Yet nary a Nollite was able to control his hairstyle when the superior forces of weather and physical education classes were encountered.

A sampling of current fashion trends can be seen in the attire of the Noll student. An examination of their clothing provides an insight into the students' likes and dislikes. Coats were the big news on the Noll campus, as furry hoods, sheepskin or pile lining, and big fur collars were welcome protection against wintry winds. Benchwarmers, parkas and ski jackets remained popular and colorful. With warmer weather came trench coats, pullovers and suede jackets.



During rainy weather, coats of every style and color lent a brightness to the drab mornings. Underneath the coats, girls usually wore uniforms, however, on "dress up" days, colorful styles were dominant. Bright plaid jumpers and v-neck sweaters were seen as always, but the more daring Nollites chose sweaters and stockings of the same pattern for the "total" look. Casual events found Noll girls often dressed in stretch slacks and sweatshirts or bermudas, knee socks and jackets.

Not to be outdone, Noll boys used similar ideas in their dress. Patterned and solid sweaters of various colors were often worn, but shirtsleeves and sport coats were also prevalent. Brightening dark suits and jackets on dress occasions were paisley ties and silk pocket squares. Velour shirts and vests were also popular. The liveliness, vitality and originality that Nollites display in their dress is but one indication of the creativity of the Noll student.

The individuality of the Nollite's taste is also evident in his footwear. Loafers, hush puppies and many other fairly conservative styles of flat shoes and boots may be seen on a typical school day. However, his footwear may be as varied as his extra-curricular activities. Nollites are seen in high heels at the formal dances, tennis shoes in the gym and after school, spikes for sports, sandals for Latin banquets, and gold boots and high button shoes for various dramatic productions. Sockhoppers specialize in patterned knee socks and sweat socks. But many a Noll student feels most comfortable in the most basic style—the bare foot.

An everchanging array of accessories can be seen in the corridors of Noll. From shoulder bags to clutch bags, the individual taste of the student is evident. Diversified tastes were also displayed by the furry mittens and jockey hats that became so popular during the winter months. As the season changed to spring, rain-gear dominated the scene. Umbrellas and rain hats of every shape and color were used for protection. The various types of pins and hair ribbons also displayed the continuous change in taste.

The more casual accessories were evident on Field Day. Viewing the many athletic events through round or rectangular sunglasses seemed more pleasant than squinting in the sun. Accessories worn to formal dances set the tone for the evening. Earrings and long gloves lend a formal air to a dance. Indeed, Nollites show an unusual creativity in their choice of a wide range of accessories to brighten up any outfit.

66 Where They Go . . .

Silence, the usual indication of a retreat, was made more meaningful by the contrast of discussion and "hymnanny." Small groups gave students the opportunity to examine problems concerning every aspect of Christian living. Bible vigil sessions brought the word of Christ by utilizing songs and prayers as well as sermons given by the retreat master. Perhaps the greatest impact was felt during the Mass. Through smaller groups, "folk" hymns, and active participation, it created a more personal dimension and produced a unifying experience.

The man who says he is in the light and hates his brother is in the darkness still

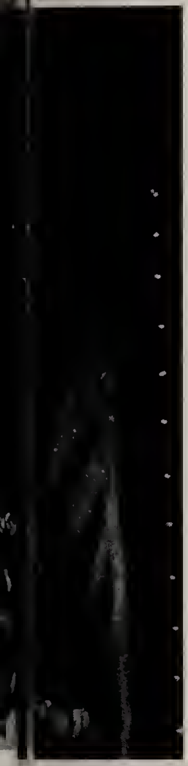
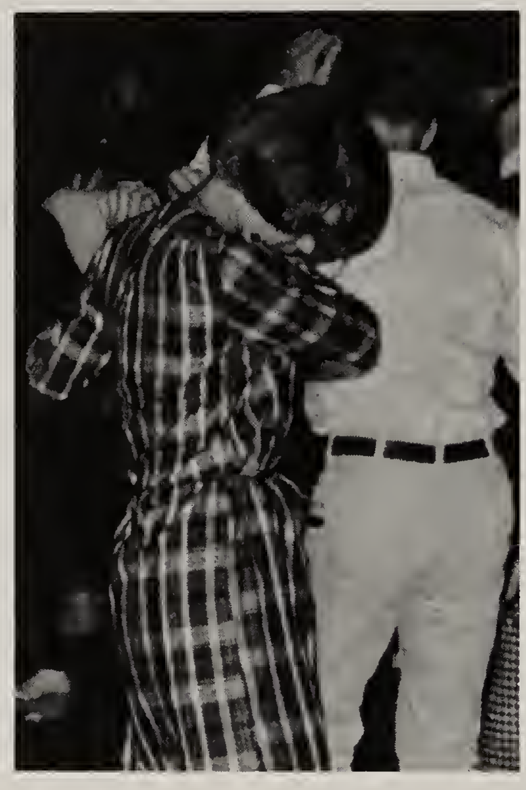
Relieving the tensions of their academic pursuits, many Noll students attend the traditional social affairs sponsored by various student organizations. "A Place Called Camelot" was the theme of the 1965 Prom. Through the efforts of the junior class, the ballroom was transformed into King Arthur's castle, complete with drawbridge, armory and chandeliers. Centers of attraction were King and Queen Paul Shreiner and Mary Lou Bolfik. Climaxing the Homecoming week-end, couples enjoyed the music of the Chantay's at the annual Homecoming Dance.



Sea shells, native huts and fish nets created the tropical atmosphere of a ''Polynesian Paradise.'' Reigning as Queen was Carol Lee Slamkowski and as Mister Touchdown, Chuck Ellis. Winter Formal offered an added elegance to the Christmas season. Drifting along with the music of the Mystics amid snow flakes and glistening evergreens, couples enjoyed ''Silver Twilight'', presented by the Student Council. It was ''Cupid's Night Out'' on Valentine's Eve, and many Noll boys enjoyed being taken to the annual Turnabout dance by their sweethearts.



In addition to the formal dances, Noll students enjoyed themselves at many a post-game sock hop or informal dance. The Choral Club sponsored a frolicking record hop featuring Ron Riley and the Rivieras. "Gobble-a-go-go," sponsored by the Mission Club, was filled with Thanksgiving spirit. The "Monogram Mash" was a gay prelude to the tension-reliever of them all—the semester dance, this year "The Halfway Hop." Indeed, such opportunity for socialization leaves no room for boredom in BNI life.

"Bye, Bye, Birdie, we hate to see you go", and those who saw the spring musical agreed. Songs from the show are still hummed and whistled in the corridors. A clever satire on many facets of American life, the story concerned a rock and roll singer who is drafted, and the efforts of his song-writer's secretary to solve her problems with the songwriter. Her solutions disrupt the once quiet town of Sweet Apple, Ohio. Leading roles were held by Terry Sherman, Pauline Frechette, John Gerbas, Mary Lynn Kolas, Nancy Ozelie, Mary Niemiec and Rich Knaver.

Coordinated by Brother John Clarence, the musical was directed by Mr. Charles Breckle, with music supervised by Sr. M. Julien and Mr. Eugene Meltzer, and choreography by Mrs. Rita Muffet.

The deep treasures of meaning stored in the conciseness of Thornton Wilder's Our Town are usually hidden from high school play audiences, but the direction of Mr. Breckle and Brother John was the key that unlocked it for Noll seniors when they presented it as their class play.

Through a simple tale of a boy and girl falling in love against a background of New Hampshire small town life, the need to be aware of one another and of life itself emerged as the message of the play. Unusual in its lack of scenery and extensive use of pantomime and lighting effects, the play demanded imagination of its audience. Terry Sherman as the Stage Manager gave significance to the action of the story, with "Tom Pancheri, Kathy Nicolini, Allan LaReau, Mary Niemiec, Joe Brunner, Marnie Ramker, and many others, too numerous to mention."

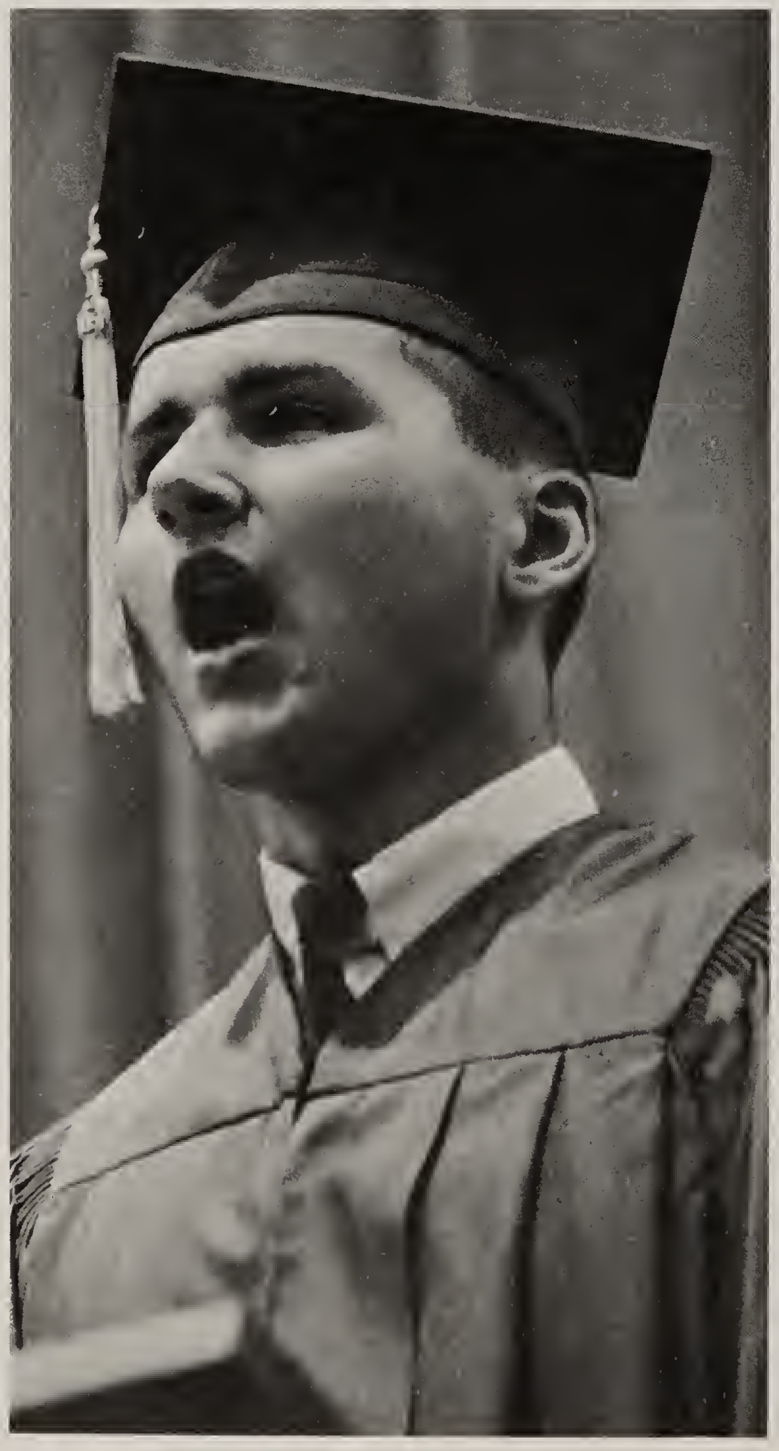
The determination that is seen in our dramatic productions is also evident in our intra-class competitions. Field Day provides the opportunity to strengthen class bonds by striving for a common goal—victory. The novelty of cycling and skateboarding to school helped set the spirit of the day. Enthusiasm continued to build as the athletic program got under way. Although the outcome of the day proved the Juniors to be superior in most events, the Annual Field Day Dance re-established the unity of spirit.



Bob Kukula, salutatorian

Kathy Brock, valedictorian

The festivity of Senior Week exemplifies the spirit of the graduating class. Beginning their week with final exams, the Class of '65 concluded their scholastic endeavors at Noll—with the realization that high school had only begun to form the mind of a real scholar in each of them. Despite the dreariness of Wednesday morning, the senior class picnic was held and gay spirits helped transform the day into one of the most memorable. Thanking God for the success of the past four years and asking Him for His guidance in the future, the students attended a Baccalaureate Mass on Friday. Graduation ceremonies on Sunday climaxed the week as each student commenced a new adventure—better prepared because of Bishop Noll.

66 What They Do . . .

Team captain Chuck Ellis

Athletics play a very important role in the life of many a Nollite—spectator and participator alike. Although their record was poor, the determination of the football team was outstanding. Led by co-captains Ellis and Edinger, the team strived for the victories which were often denied them because of bad breaks, an error here or there, and injuries to men like Scheidt, Kramer and LaReau. With these men out of action, a heavier load was placed upon the shoulders of those who remained.

Earl Raskosky, Senior quarterback

Chuck Schloer, Senior tackle

Earl again.

Senior back, Tom Adamczyk, takes off for a Noll touchdown.

Junior standout, Tom Czechanski, is brought down.

Linemen Micheli, Cherep, Hurley, Schloer, Pryzbyl and Alexander gave the opposition a tremendous weight advantage, but made up for it with determination and fight. Ellis, a constant inspiration to his teammates, put every ounce of his energy into each play. The backs, led by quarterbacks Raskosky and Govert, showed aggressiveness under pressure. Czechanski and Adamczyk displayed great speed at the halfback spots. Furjanic and Jurasevich were also steady performers. After this long season, some of them, namely Edinger, Cherep and Perko had enough energy left to go out for basketball.

Intense desire, as displayed by John Cherep, plays an important role in football.

Coach Dermody sets things straight.

Although shaken up by a shifting of players in mid-season, Noll's basketball men put their all onto the home floor and the away-from-home floors. Seniors John Joyce, Dave Piekarczyk, John Cherep and Jack Luberda came through with some excellent shooting throughout the season, while juniors Tim Chiappini and Dale Dust amazed everyone by their speed and dexterity on the floor. Also showing promise were the sophomores who advanced to the varsity team in the middle of the season.

Even though the season's record was only 8-11, Coach John Dermody led his Bishop Noll Warriors into a spectacular showing against Washington in the East Chicago Sectional. Promising the student body one hundred per cent effort at the pep assembly before the game, the Warriors lived up to their pledge, winning the admiration of all in a splendid display of sportsmanship and determination for Bishop Noll. With sophomores and juniors Kieras, Magdziarz, Quinn, Kundich, Adamczyk, Chiappini and a lot of less experienced but talented boys to back them up, hope is at a new high.

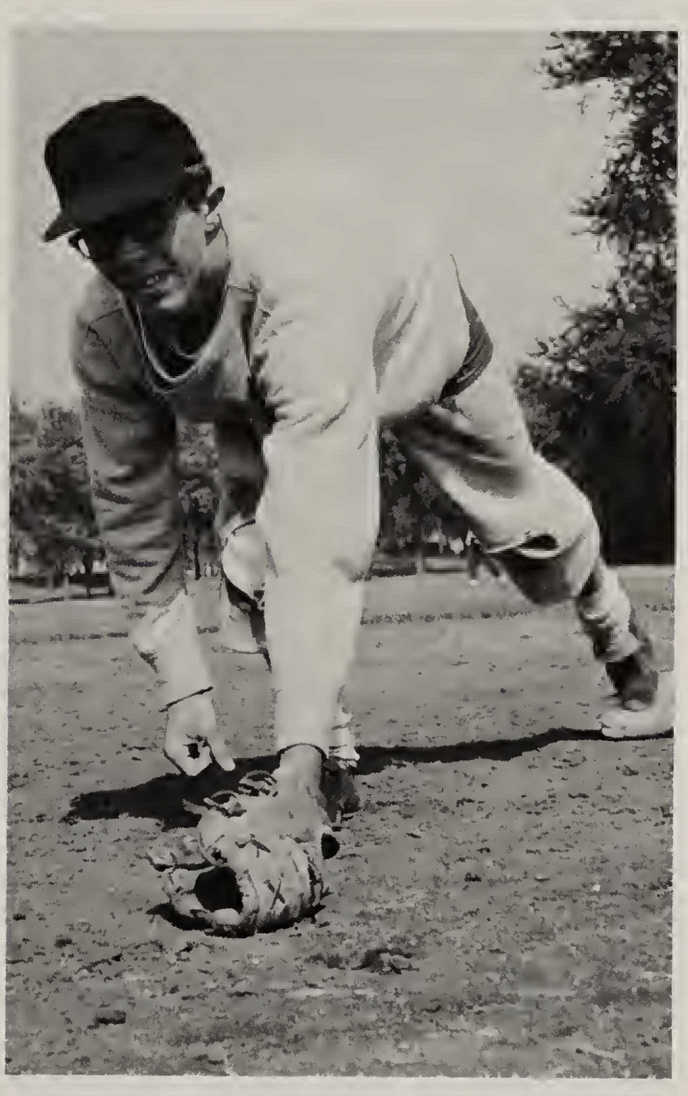
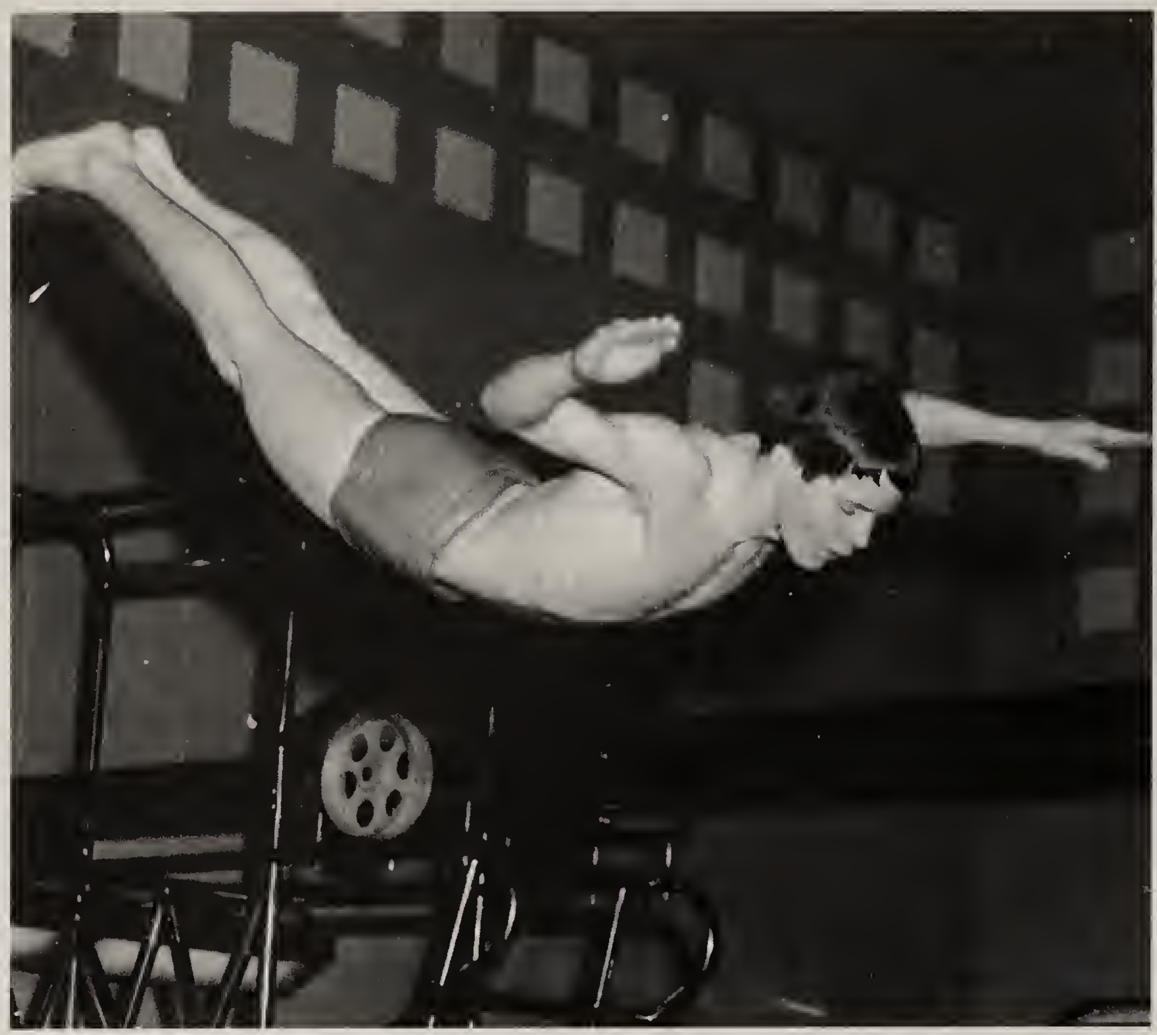
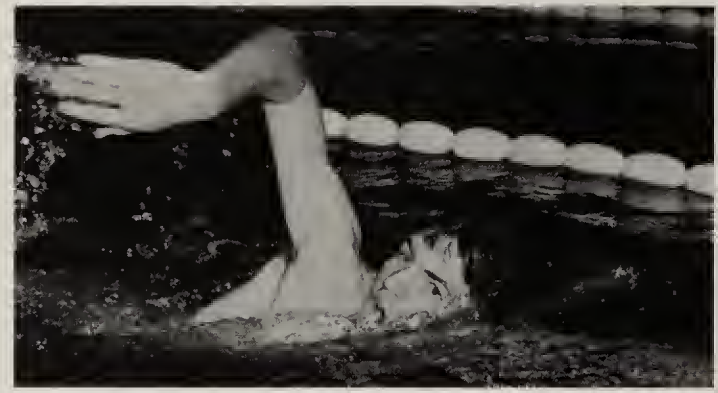
Top scorer John Joyce



Mr. Bradtke coaches varsity baseball as well as reserve basketball. Faced with a definite rebuilding year, the team finished with an unfortunate 6-16 record. Outstanding individual team members were Jerry King, Jim Fiegle and Phil Kokandy. Returning senior lettermen Pat Bender, Phil Buck and juniors Paul Tworkski and Tim Chiappini appear to be promising assets to a 1966 baseball team striving for nothing short of an undefeated season.

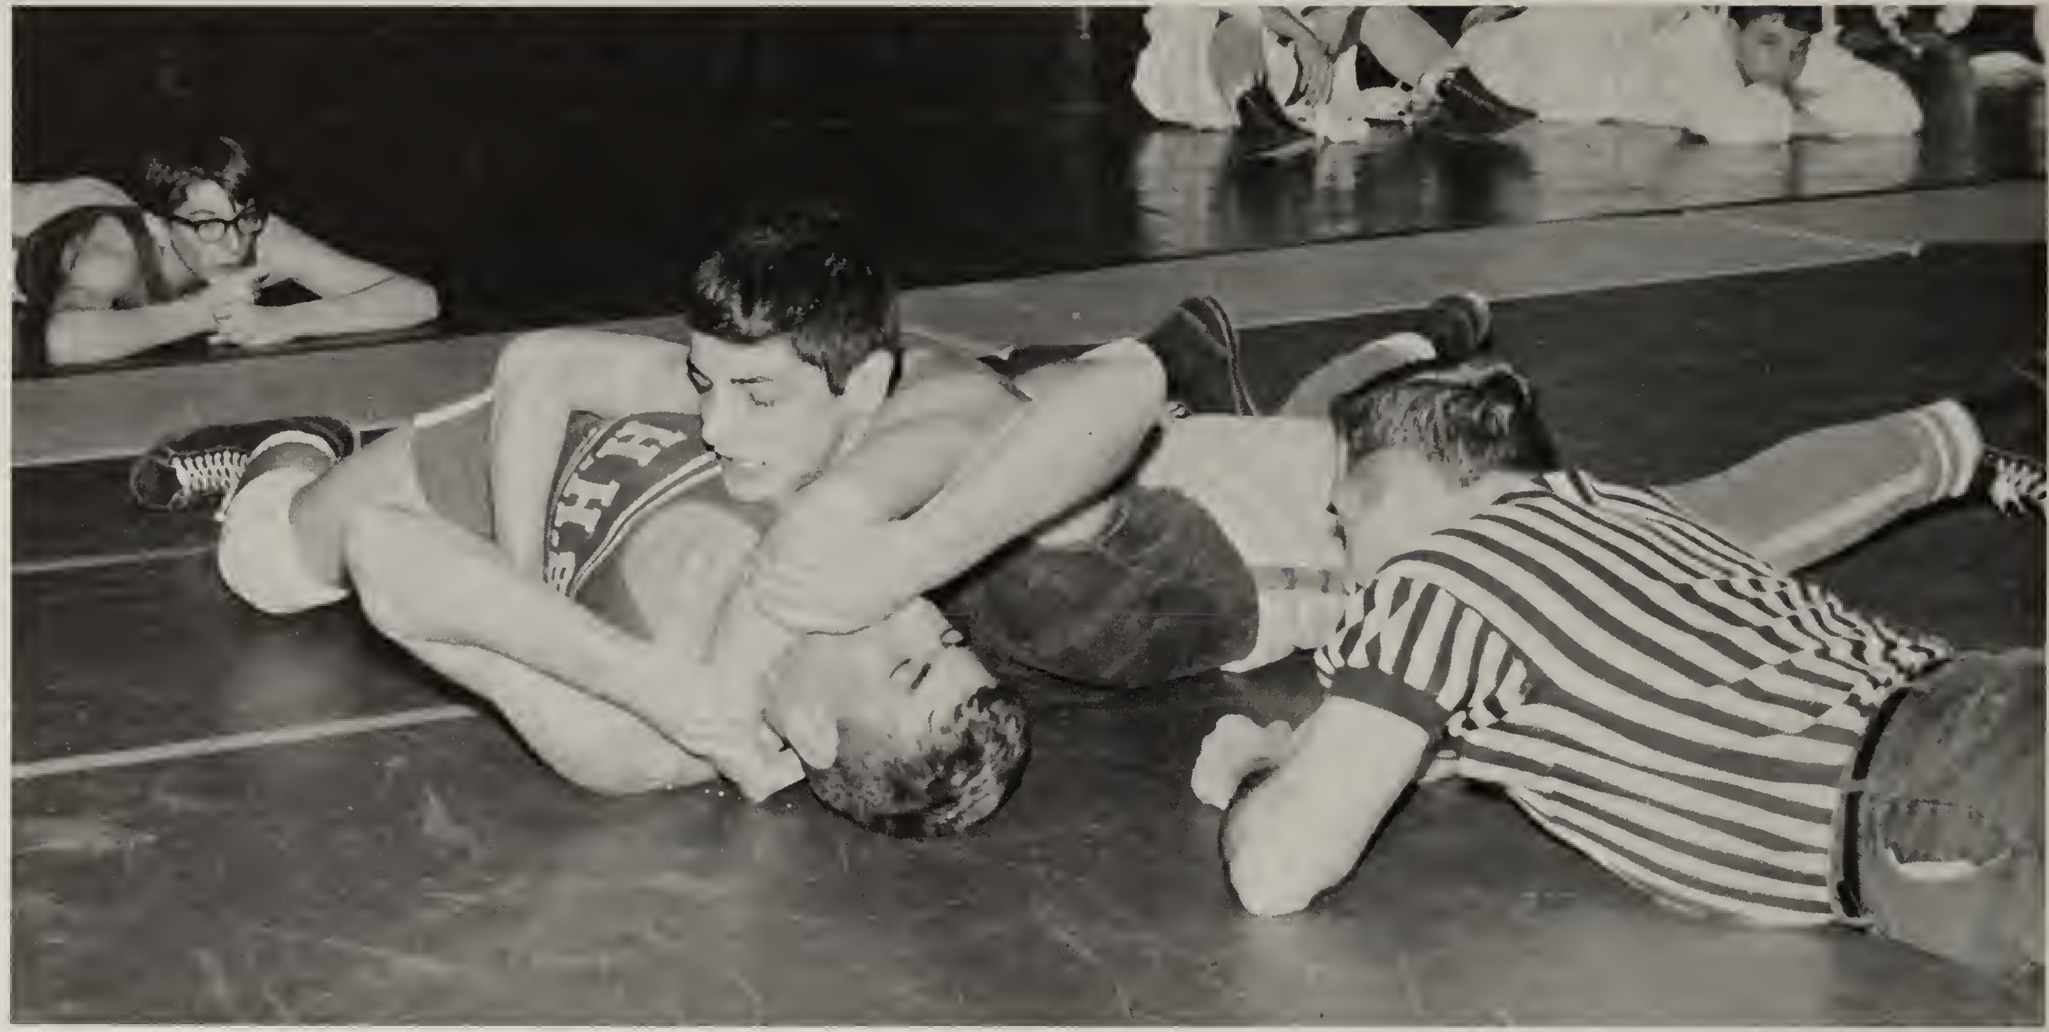


3



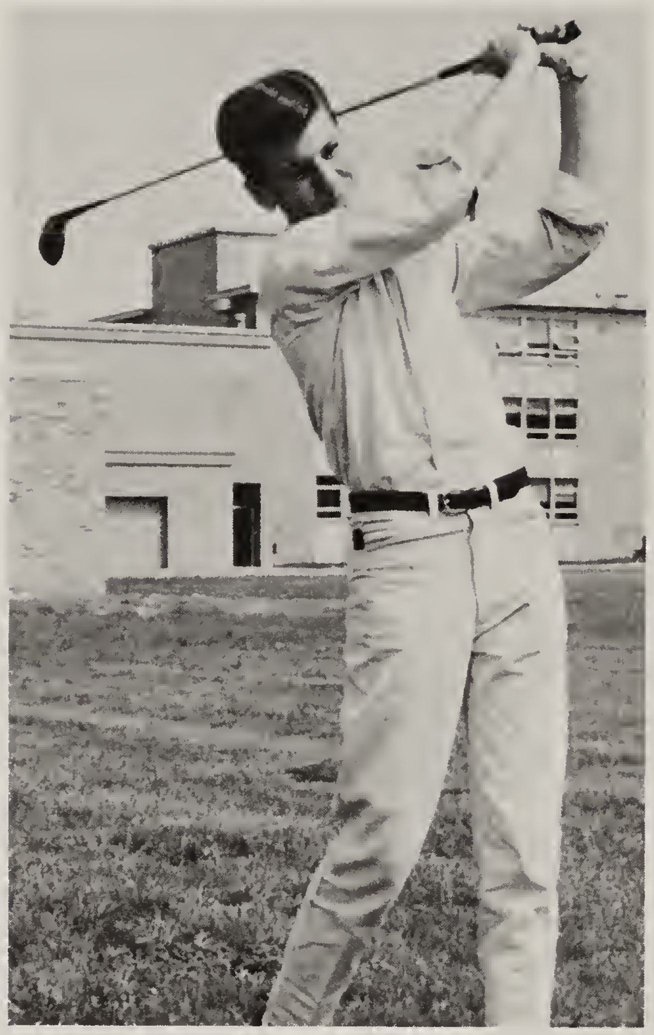
Led by individual record breakers John Schreiner, Bill Baron and Tom Witt, and strong relay teams, Bishop Noll's swimmers continued their tradition of success. Coach Gary Lutker's crew had the Noll sports spotlight all to themselves throughout the season, capturing much of the glamor usually attributed to the football and basketball teams. The season highlight was the impressive victory over old rival T.F. South. The Noll team broke four school and two pool records in recording a 57-36 victory over the tough Lansing team.

Noll sportsmen run great distances as well as swim them. Under the direction of Mr. Archer, the newly formed cross-country team showed streaks of great promise. Finishing with a first season record of 7 wins and 6 losses, this new team shows every indication of becoming a valuable asset to Noll's already famous track department. Last year's track record showed the varsity team displaying great power in relay and distance events. Led by lettermen runners Tom Adamczyk, Chuck Schafer, Mark Furman and shot putter Rich Sobolewski, many records were broken. It is hoped that Noll's tradition of excellence in this field and a team of hard working cindermen will lead the 1966 season into even greater things.



S.H.H.

Although returning from a very successful 1965 season, Noll grapplers constantly strived to improve their record of undefeated matches. Co-captains Pat Bobalik and Tom Kotynski led the team with undefeated records in the 138 and 145 lb. classes, but often lacked support from the heavier weight divisions. Other lower weight wrestlers who showed promise for future teams included Leo Gonzalez, 95 lb., Frank Lowry, 112 lb., and Mike Gallagher, 120 lb. The entire team contributed its strength and experience towards brightening up the 1966 wrestling season.



Although the golf team was in a rebuilding process, it ended the season with a respectable 14-7 record. Under the direction of Coach Karl Huffine, the linksmen finished strong in each of their tournaments. Centered around returning veterans Don Cvitkovich and Ken Cook, first year members Rusty Kochis, Wally Tatara and future star, John Kieras rounded out the 1965 squad. A big disappointment was the one-stroke loss to Hammond High in the Hammond City Tournament. With the same squad returning next year, the outlook for the 1966 season is very promising.

"There is motion in the world"—Father Kenney

SPIRIT AL DIRECTOR

Religion classes, the center of the academic world at Noll, took on a new light this year in accordance with the Church's "aggiornamento." While exploring everything from the mysteries of the Old Testament to liturgical reforms, the young Christian was given every opportunity to voice his opinion on modern moral values and attitudes. Discussions were supplemented by films concerning the challenges of Christian living. Through periodic Masses with his religion class and consultations with the spiritual director, each student received individual guidance in his religious beliefs.

Let us never forget that the more we are like Christ, the more human we are —
Best of everything Peggie —
Father Carl [illegible]

Striving for the understanding of literature, language and dramatics, Noll English classes examine the literary works of cultures from Greece to Russia in addition to contemporary novels made available through the paperback library. The emphasis of this year's courses was on several films, readings, and the production of four one-act plays and cuttings for instruction in dramatic techniques, as well as the usual rudiments of grammar, proper speech and the differences in literary cultures.

Through courses in history, sociology, government, geography and economics, the student is introduced to the challenging importance of social studies. By the identification and exposition of modern historical and sociological values, critical thinking is developed. Facts are presented and analyzed through the participation of students in heated class discussions. The fascinating story of man unfolds as each student begins to realize the true principles of democratic ideals manifested in his own enthusiasm, idealism and loyalty.

Everything from freshman geometry to senior calculus is included in Nolls' program of the revolutionary "new math." Fine math laboratories equipped with everything from overhead projectors and oversize slide rules to three dimensional conic sections and colored transparencies are a great aid in visualizing theories. Used extensively this year, team teaching proved successful by exposing students to various viewpoints. Even trigonometric functions and binomial expansions seemed to come alive to the student interested in mathematics.

With the emphasis on experimentation, the science classes were very appealing to the student's spirit of discovery. Noll's fine laboratories and teaching aids were beneficial to the students who probed the mysteries of plant and animal life in biology, the various compounds formulated in chemistry, and the fields of electricity and magnetism in physics. The well qualified instructors who composed the Science Department staff brought about a better understanding of the physical world.

Supervised by Brother Leo and Sister Ivan, Noll's business course gives the student a valuable background in office proficiency. The students are taught the skills needed in order to compete and succeed in the business world. The ability to operate calculators, mimeograph machines, adding machines and typewriters proves beneficial to the interested student. The responsibility of mimeographing the Daily Bulletin, absentee list and other bulletins is given to the business students who thus serve the school while developing individual skills.

Expression is the keynote of Noll's fine arts classes. Students learning how art can express ideas fill the art room with color, curiosity and enthusiasm. They study, they experiment, and they brighten our school with their works. Filling the choral room with the sound of music while studying symphonies, comparing jazz styles and preparing programs, the music classes learn the intricacies of musical variations from Bach to Bernstein. With the finer arts comes an awareness for aesthetic values and higher stratas of culture.

The development of domestic and mechanical skills in the student by providing factual knowledge and practical experience is the purpose of the home economics and mechanical drawing courses. Basic principles of homemaking are taught to freshmen girls while the sophomores explore various methods of nutritional food preparation. Mastery of sewing techniques is the goal of juniors while seniors complete the course with a study of food patterns and actual cooking experience. Mechanical drawing classes offer boys an introduction to the development of architectural skills and machinery design.

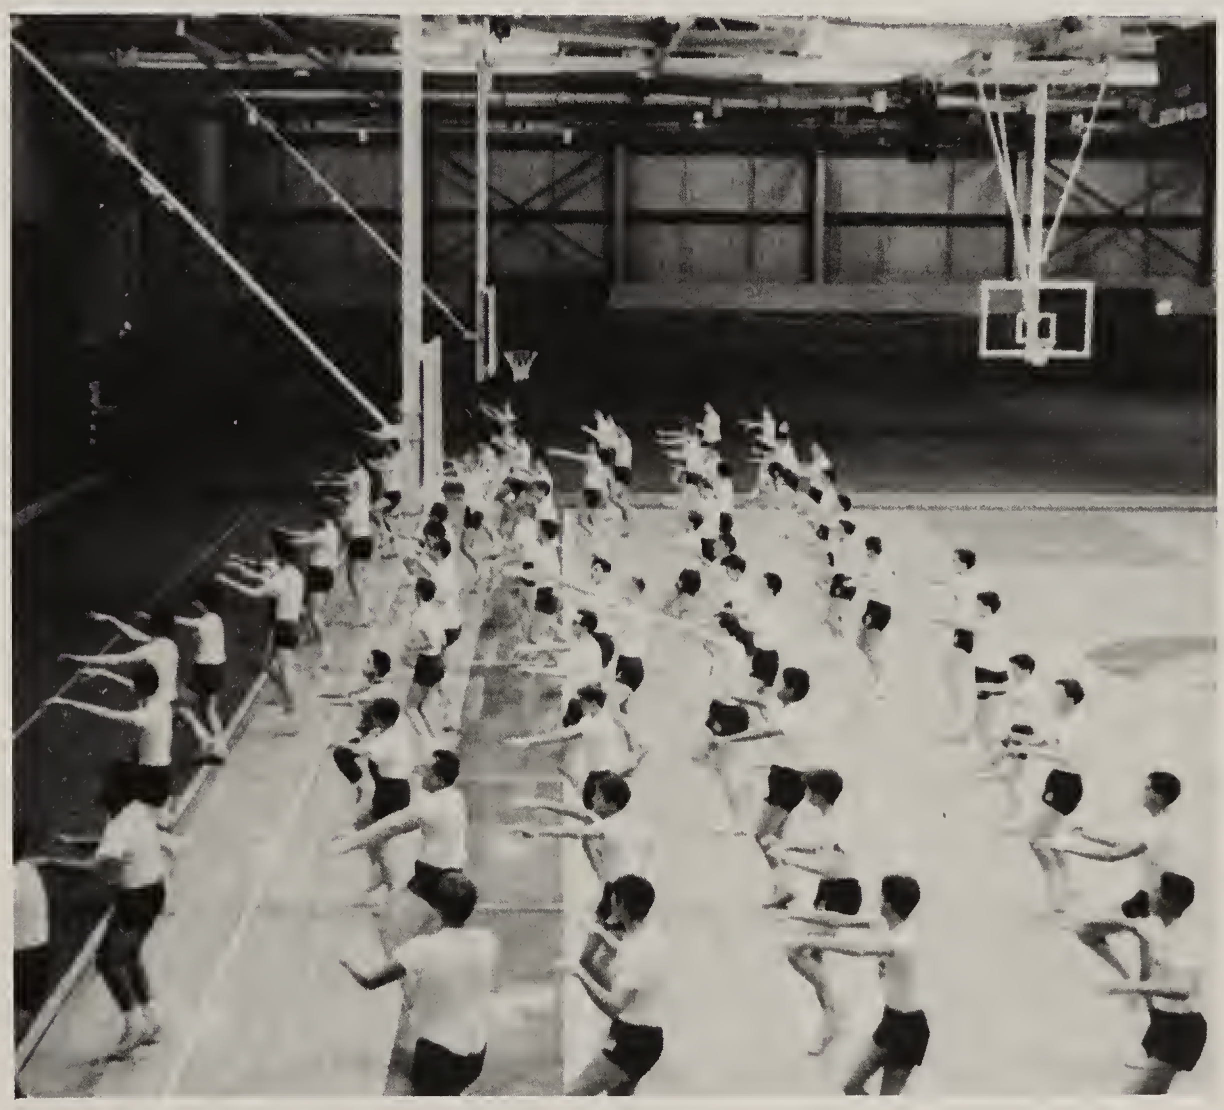
To make and keep students healthy and fit is the purpose of Noll's physical education classes. The instructors use the gym and pool facilities to provide a varied program. Swimming, basketball, wrestling, volleyball and softball are but a few of the sports offered, as well as daily drills in basic calisthenics. Also included in this program are classes in health and safety in which sound attitudes of physical fitness are developed.



Vice-President Jack Crawford

Composed of student-elected officers and representatives, the Student Council did much to promote active participation in school functions. Through his representative, the student became better acquainted with the administrative segment of school life. Besides representing the entire student body, the Student Council sponsored various activities, promoted school spirit, and maintained discipline. Studying governmental systems and discussing current events is the purpose of the Political Science Club. Both organizations helped bring the understanding of government closer to student life.

Understanding the challenges of Christian womanhood is the objective of Sigma Kappa Gamma. Monthly breakfast meetings are held after Mass featuring discussions and guest speakers. Assisting the priest at all religious functions and serving daily Mass at St. Margaret Mary are the responsibilities of the Noll Acolytes. The Mission Club has been successful in helping the needy and making Nollites aware of their obligations to others. Under the direction of Sr. Angeline, weekly collections, Christmas baskets and the Mardi Gras give the Noll students opportunities to display their generosity.

Peggy,

A girl I know I can never forget – because of the cotton in your ears. I'll miss you quite a bit, you know. You're really a sweet and nice girl and I'm sure you'll stay that way and make us all proud of you.

Love,
Cynthia Grzalinski

After dinner discussion at Saturnalia

French club Christmas party

Realizing that learning a language means more than struggle with grammar and translation, Noll language clubs give each student a chance to explore cultural background. The Latin Club held a December Saturnalia, replete with banquet and chariot races, as well as several films, slides and discussions. A better understanding of the culturally rich country of France is promoted by the French Club through such activities as its Christmas party, movies and filmstrips. Through field trips and displays, Spanish Club members examine Spanish-speaking countries and their customs.

One outlet for students interested in using their classroom knowledge of science is the BNI Experimental Science Club. Through guest lectures, field trips and club experiments, members find practical applications of science. For those preparing for medical and technological professions there is the Medical Careers Club while for those intrigued by practical problems or abstract theories of mathematics and logic, there is the newly organized Math Seminar and Chess Club. Each of these clubs helps students progress in individual scientific achievement.

Finishing up on final deadline are yearbook staff members

To increase their skill in journalism and record the many activities involving the school, students can serve on the staff of Noll's publications. Our newspaper, the Journoll, has won awards for its excellence, and the staff members gain invaluable experience. Photographic as well as writing skills can be developed through work on the yearbook. Acting as a link between the school and the area press is the Noll News Service. High journalistic achievement in any of these activities may be rewarded with membership in the International Quill and Scroll Society.

Serving as ushers for athletic events are members of the Monogram Club. These letter winners are chosen on the basis of athletic achievement. This year several members of the Girls' Athletic Association also earned letters for outstanding achievement in various G.A.A. events. Terri Bighart, Georgene Horvath, Ellen Stribiak and Linda Verbish merited this distinction. Setting the new state record for the 440 yard relay, Deanna Reiplinger, Mary Luberda, Georgene Horvath and Linda Verbish were noteworthy examples of Noll's consistent records of excellence.

G-o-o-o-o-o team!

Other participants of Noll's athletic program included the cheerleaders and Booster Club. Practicing with determination and dedication, the girls strive to promote that vitally needed yet intangible school spirit. Under the direction of the late Mrs. Petro, the Booster Yell Block helped Noll win the sectional sportsmanship trophy last year. Sponsored by Mrs. Cook this year, the club hopes to help Noll retain the award. Noll's varsity cheerleaders were Carol Lee Slamkowski, Gwen Croom, Diane Wilczynski, Yvonne Linders, Karen Holland and Sue Wachel.

Cheerleaders' float at Homecoming

Float preparation

A wonderful weekend of sports activity commenced with the first event of homecoming. The senior skit was a clever spoof of Dickens' A Christmas Carol. The parade, routed through downtown Hammond, was composed of class floats, the queen's float and forty decorated cars. Carol Lee Slamkowski and her court, consisting of Diane Wilczynski, Pat Sell, Ginger Yatsko and Kathy Peifer, reigned in a "Polynesian Paradise" the following evening. The announcement of Mr. Touchdown, Charles Ellis, climaxed not only the dance, but a memorable weekend as well.

Through participation in competitive oratorical events, members of the Speech and Debate Club gain proficiency in public speaking and dramatic interpretation. Outlets for musical and artistic talent are offered by the Choral Club, Band, and Art Club. Various choruses and bands give every student with a flair for music the opportunity to develop individual talent, as well as providing entertainment for various school functions. Art Club members provide displays for the school as well as develop individual mastery of artistic methods.

Future Teachers of America investigate various teaching methods

Nollites interested in preparing for future professions have a choice of career clubs. Those looking forward to a career in teaching learn of the many challenges, hardships and rewards that this profession entails through the Future Teachers of America. Training for the business world introduced in the various business classes is increased by participation in the Business Education Club. The Future Secretaries of America, under the direction of local secretaries, offers practical suggestions and experience in preparation for this career.

Service club girls prepare for style show dinner

Setting tables, serving dinners, and ushering are but a few of the many activities of the Service Club girls under the direction of Mrs. Reichart. Officers Mary Rose Kozlowski, Kathy Vargo and Sherry Finneran help plan club events including the annual Turnabout dance. Service in scholastic and extracurricular activities is also a vital factor for membership in the National Honor Society. Officers Charles Schafer, Sue Vrane, Cheryl Haviar and Pat Natale, under the direction of Mr. Smith, plan the annual Book Fair and Talent Show.

66 ADMINISTRATION

Through the endeavors of Bishop Andrew G. Grutka, programs have been initated to expand the facilities of Noll to accommodate a maximum enrollment of thirty-two hundred students. His sincerity and interest in our affairs has contributed much to the advancement of higher learning at Noll.

Serving in the capacity of Superintendent, Brother I. Conrad has, since 1962, directed the administrative policies of Bishop Noll Institute. Due to his influence the school has reached an outstanding level of academic achievement.

ADMINISTRATION

Preserving the individuality of each student in a school as large as Bishop Noll is one of the aims of our administration. This is accomplished by careful schedule planning and individual guidance, both spiritual and scholastic. The members of Noll's administration believe that discipline balanced with advice is the key to the better understanding of each Nollite. Dear Peggy:

It's been a great year.

Will get our revenge on Simmetti yet you were a great Cornelius.

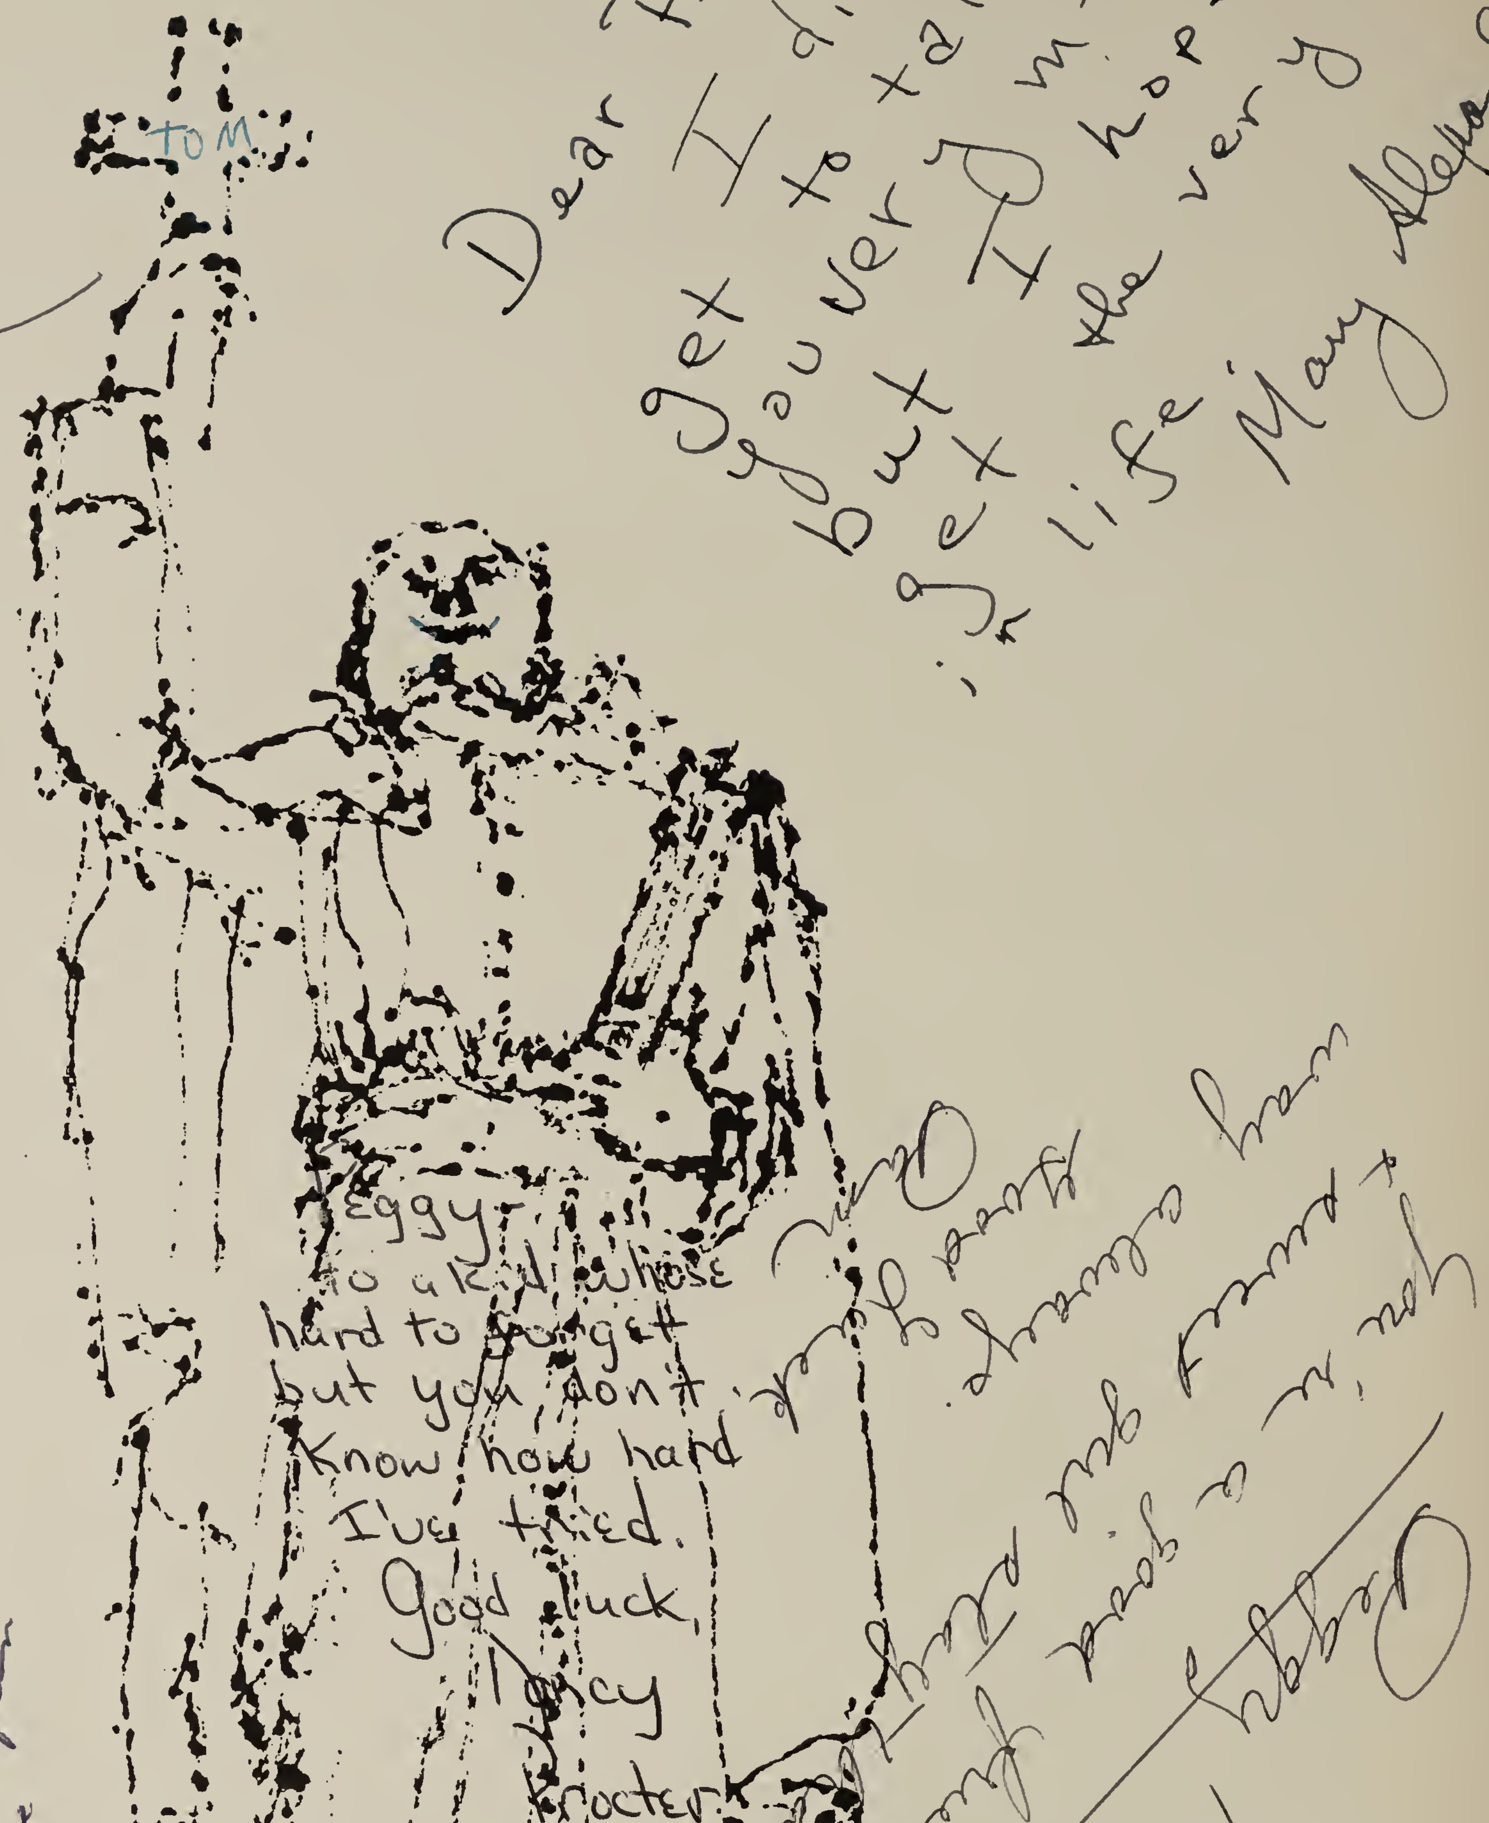
Have lots of fun

Ellen

I sign my name here merely to indicate myself as a friend.
Rosanne Gandy

Dear Peggy,
I didn't get to talk to you very much but I hope you get the very best in life.
Mary Alexander



Peggy,
to a kid whose hard to forget but you don't know how hard I've tried.
Good luck,
Nancy Procter

Peggy!
You're a good friend + sweet girl stay that way always.
Good Luck,
Pam

Margarita,
We really had a riot together this year. Man, you never ran out of anything to say. I hope, in fact, I know we'll have just as much fun next year if not more (in Spanish II) ¡yup!
Mary Kay '68

Peggy had a little Tom who wrote stories oh so fine
But the thing that Peggy doesn't know
Is that Tommy is all mine.
"Pots" (68)
Good Luck

Peggy,
To the best W.S. fan
I know (ESPECIALLY G.P.-T.J)
Best of Luck always Remember me and all the fine times we had at W.S.P. last year and in years to come.
Love ya
Marcia — Get it
"68"

Peggy
Good Luck
in the future and at the Dentist
Chesterine
(Chef)

Peggy,
Best of luck
in your Junior year. Rose
'68

Peggy,
Best of Luck!
See you next year with braces! Hope you're in my classes.
Luv,
Lynn

Peggy,
To a sweet girl. Best of luck in the future.
Have fun during the summer (maybe we will see each other again!)
Mary
Jo

Peg,
See ya next year in Spanish III.
Hope you have fun
this summer and forget about Spanish for awhile.
